Overview

The 29th European Symposium on Programming (ESOP 2024) will be held in Montpellier, France, from April 15-19, 2024. ESOP is the premier European forum for researchers working on all aspects of programming languages and systems, including their design, implementation, analysis, and applications.

ESOP 2024 will bring together leading researchers from academia and industry to present and discuss their latest work. The symposium will feature a mix of invited talks, contributed papers, and workshops. The invited talks will be given by world-renowned experts in the field, and the contributed papers will present original research from all areas of programming languages and systems.

The workshops will provide a forum for researchers to discuss specific topics in depth. The workshops will be organized by leading researchers in the field, and they will cover a wide range of topics, from programming language design to program analysis and verification.

Topics

ESOP 2024 will cover all aspects of programming languages and systems, including:

- Programming language design
- Programming language semantics
- Program analysis and verification
- Compiler design and optimization
- Runtime systems
- Program transformation
- Programming language applications
- Programming language education

Important Dates

- Paper submission deadline: October 15, 2023
- Notification of acceptance: January 15, 2024
- Camera-ready deadline: February 15, 2024

- Symposium dates: April 15-19, 2024
